Look at film differently.

Our views in and of the contemporary media are shaped by the person behind the camera.

This talk will demonstrate the presence of "the male gaze" and how it not only misrepresents reality but also glamorizes violence against women and minorities.

The solution? Moments such as the Bentonville Film Festival—which champions women and diversity. Join us to learn about ways to "change our views" and to hear activist and actor Geena Davis' pre-recorded message for our audience.
